100% of the respondents reported that they had received training in the use of the system. The training was provided by the system's developer, who was a member of the research team. The training was provided in a series of sessions, with the first session focusing on the basic use of the system and the subsequent sessions focusing on more advanced features. The training was well-received by the respondents, who reported that it was helpful in understanding the system and its capabilities. The training was also well-timed, as it was provided before the system was used in the field.
